'Silver Ball' Tomorrow Night From 9 to 1 O'clock In Ste. Claire Dining Room

By LORRAINE GLOS

Under bright silver stars and scores of spring bouquets, dancers will twirl to the music of Frank Beasley and his 12-piece orchestra at the senior "Silver Ball" tomorrow night from 9 to 1 o'clock in the main dining room of the Hotel Sainte Claire.

Bids will be on sale all day today in the Business office for the entire student body. They will also be sold at the dance tomorrow night. Price is $2.50 including taxes.

Although the dance is a formal affair, men may wear dark suits if they wish. Servicemen and off-campus guests are cordially invited to attend, states Gerry Reynolds, chairman of the dance, but one member of each couple must be an ASB member.

DECORATIONS

Decorations will carry out the "Silver Ball" theme. Silver stars will shine from the ceiling and walls while flowers will complete the setting. As the main dining room is rather large, Leola Conkin, chairman of flower arrangements, is pleading for more flowers to fill the room. She asks any student or faculty member who has extra flowers to contact her, Phil Sykes, or Miss Reynolds, who will make arrangements to pick up the flowers Saturday morning.

MUSIC

The music, furnished by Beasley and his orchestra, includes a vocal, and is styled both sweet and swing. He made himself known at the Spardi Gras dance. One of his featured numbers is "Long Ago and Far Away", which is one of his special arrangements.

Chairmen and committees who have been working on the affair are: Gerry Reynolds, chairman of the Ball; Jo Falcone heads com-

ART EXHIBIT IN GYM TO CONTINUE UNTIL JUNE 23

"For those students who have not yet taken the time to visit the art exhibit in the Women's gym, it will continue until June 23, so before finals begin to occupy all your spare time, get over to the gym. This is an exhibit well worth seeing, and every student and faculty member on campus should make it a point to see it before the last day," says Dr. Marques Reitzel, head of the Art department.

The exhibit, which is a panorama of contemporary Western Hemisphere painting, represents a third phase of the International Business Machine's corporation's plan to stimulate a closer relationship between business and art, and to foster among the peoples a greater familiarity with each other's aesthetic development.

Seniors To Scram Sunday After Baccalaureate

Immediately after Baccalaureate Sunday, seniors will meet in front of the Student Union at approximately 5:30 to start on their Senior Scram.

They will form a caravan and head toward Mt. Hermon where they will spend the night and then trek to Forrest Pool and spend all day Monday there.

At Mt. Hermon, seniors will participate in a healthy dinner, at which time the entertainment will start and continue until 12 o'clock. Breakfast will also be served at Mt. Hermon before leaving for the new destination. Lunch will be served at Forrest Pool.

CLOTHES

Bobbie Jones, in charge of the affair, announces that seniors should wear clothes that will be comfortable for roughing it... slacks, jeans and the like. "As there will be swimming at Forrest Pool you had better bring your bathing suits," she added.

Each one attending must bring his own sheet and pillow case, as they are not provided at Mt. Hermon.

RECEPTION

Next activity on the schedule is the Faculty reception which will be held in the Women's gym Tuesday, June 20, from 8:30 to 10:30 o'clock. This will be a semi-

SORORITY HAS INITIATION OF NEW OFFICERS

Formal initiation of the new officers of Beta Gamma Chi was held recently at the home of Juliana Cardellino.

The new officers are Jackie George, president; Genevieve Gallagher, vice-president; Winnie Berticovich, treasurer; Florence Minnich, corresponding secretary; Jean Wolff, recording secretary; Betty Jones, reporter; Nancy Paige, inter-society representative; and Connie Booher, A.W.A. representative.

Beta Gamma Chi will honor its senior members at the annual brunch to be held Saturday at the San Jose country club.

SJS Prof At UCLA

Dr. Carl D. Duncan, entomology professor, will be on the summer session staff at UCLA this year.

Dr. Duncan will conduct a workshop in science for the Conference on Elementary School Supervision. He will advise and help in the presentation of science in the training school of UCLA, and consult with teachers and supervisors registered at the conference in solving their individual problems.

CAMPUS BOND DRIVE ENDING; GOAL PASSED

Spartan Spears, Veterans Take Charge; Sponsor War Show;
Call Last Day 'Invasion Day'

San Jose State college's participation in the Fifth War Loan drive will cease after completion of today's bond and stamp sales, which are being handled by Spartan Spears and Veterans. Total sales up to date have amounted to $29,112.85.

"Invasion Day" is the name given to this last day of the campus campaign by the two organizations in charge of it. An intensive program of activities is planned by the co-chairmen Madge Jennings and Angelo Bova who are working under general chairman Howard Riddle to bring bond sales as far above the quota as is possible today.

Bonds and stamps will be sold at the booth by the library all day. From 12:15 to 1:00 a complete war show will be presented in the back quad.

WORK SHOP ON YOUTH PROBLEMS TO BE CONDUCTED

San Jose State college will be the scene of a summer work shop on California youth problems next week to which all students, faculty, and townspeople interested in participating in the conference are invited.

Discussion on five major fields will be held during the five-day confab, led by men well qualified to talk on the several problems under consideration.

Major discussions will center on family and home life, recreation and club life, occupations, social and spiritual responsibilities, and research findings and programs in operation.

The conferences will be held in the Library starting June 19. College President T. W. MacQuarrie will offer greetings to the men who are coming from all parts of California to take part

WAR SHOW

Twelve men from the Western Defense command will be on campus with two armored cars and full equipment. During the program they will demonstrate invasion tactics and the use of many weapons, including the famous "bazooka" gun.

Judge Percy O'Connor will speak at the noon program at which Rally committee members will serve as hostesses. Spartans may see the show by buying a war stamp.

DEMONSTRATION

The armored cars and equipment will be on campus from 10:30 until 2:30 and students may examine them during that time, but demonstrations will be given only at the noon show.

San Jose State college is already over the war bond quota set for the current drive. By 5 o'clock yesterday the $25,000 quota had been exceeded by $4,112.85. Yesterday's sales amounted to $756.00.

Each day of the campaign has been handled by a different set of campus organizations working under the Student Council which is sponsoring the drive. Councillor Howard Riddle is general chairman in charge of sales.

Graduation --- 1944

The day will probably be hot. Most graduations have their sticky aspects. Many of us, feeling that the ceremony does not concern us, will want to start the summer with a trip to Santa Cruz.

But attending this graduation will mean more to us in future years than we now realize. As the President reads an account of the college's improvements during the past year, some who may not be too fascinated at the time will later be proud that they participated.

Dean Pitman will solemnly read the list of State men who will never return. The reading will take a lot of time this year—longer than ever before. But the names will mean much to those who can connect them with former friends—and they haven't been gone long. Most of us remember somebody.

Students who have made the most of campus life will feel an obligation to share the departing seniors' moment of triumph. But more than an obligation, it is an investment for the future. When the undergraduate receives his diploma he will appreciate it more for having enviously watched others before him thus honored. And it will be a thrill to see our blackrobed friends march into the world.

—Bailey.

Thrust And Parry

Miss Bee Laurence
Editor, Spartan Daily
San Jose State College
San Jose, California

Dear Miss Laurence:

Before the school year ends, I want to give my appreciation to you and your staff for the fine paper you have been getting out this past quarter. I have never failed to receive a Spartan Daily since I received my diploma some six years ago, after having served and thoroughly enjoyed my terms as reporter, news editor, copy editor, sports editor, and editor of the Spartan Daily. So, although students names do not mean much to me anymore, I still look with renewed interest each day as the paper arrives in the mail. It is doubly appreciated when one realizes that I had a staff of 40 members, which is definitely a war casualty.

Because I think so much of the Spartan Daily and the place it fills (and fills it well) in the life of San Jose State College, I was more than mildly disturbed at the letter signed by P.D.G. in the June 9 issue, which surely shows a lack of understanding. And so out came my portable where it has been hiding for quite some time.

You are to be commended for your fine explanation. It seems hard to realize that some believe that a school paper belongs to a few. But that is the case, and particularly with P.D.G. In the first place, such a paper, designed to meet the needs of all on the campus, must deal with the entire student body, and thus it must have complete coverage. If there is nothing to write about, as P.D.G. suggests, it is certainly not (Continued on Page 3)

JUST AMONG OURSELVES

By Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie
President San Jose State College

We had a letter from Mrs. Estelle Greathead last week, one of our alumnae, a Homecoming letter. She had graduated on this campus seventy years ago in March, a Golden Grad of twenty years standing. She wasn't coming to the celebration this year, but she sent her greetings to all of the old friends and hoped we would have another good time.

In her last paragraph she mentioned casually that she had just completed a book of poems which had been accepted by a national publisher and would be out soon. She calls it "Stepping Stones to America's Greatness."

That letter gave me hope. I've always wanted to write some poetry. However, when I had anything to say, I couldn't make it rhyme; and when I did somehow manage to make it rhyme, it didn't say anything.

To have graduated in 1874, Mrs. Greathead must have been born before the Civil War. In all of the years of our history since that time she has been noting the stepping stones that have made America great. Certainly she is qualified to write a book about them. She has seen them, has seen the teeming millions of our people following those stones to a land that is fair and free.

Congratulations, Mrs. Greathead, from all of us. We admire your spirit. We claim a reflected glory from your achievement. We are very proud of you.

There will be a meeting of the Student Affiliates of the A.C.S. today at 12:30 in room S216. Important! Election of officers.

Before we slip into a take-off on recent doings on and off-campus, we'd like to express the sincerest regards to Wilbur Korsmeyer for his welcome support via the mails. Check today's T & P.

A million thanks, Wilbur. Perhaps there is a more flowery way of reporting our deep gratitude, but we don't think it could have more heartfelt meaning. Now, down to business.

If the unrehearsed splapstick of Wednesday night's Joint Council get-together is any indication of the general trend of next year's weekly meetings, there's gonna be some high times on the old campus after all.

Members of the new Student Council were properly initiated into their future duties with the aid of a luscious steak dinner at the Costa hotel.

We must admit the steak was a little tough, but apparently both the old and the new governing bodies are rugged individuals because no plate was left uncleaned.

Of course Up-And-At-'Em Hugh Johnston rooked himself into the spot of Chief Host when he volunteered to exert his muscles for the benefit of Willie Sabelman whose "knife just wasn't sharp enough."

Even Short-But-Powerful Sebastian Frank "Scrappy" "Squatty" Squatrito did double duty for the women. Down the table most of the dining Councilors managed all right. But it's been a long time since so many jaws were exercised in pantomime.

Nancy Duncan fared better than most. She had to wait for her steak; they gave the steer a shot of adrenalin and he was so rejuvenated the steak came out tender. Nancy was so proud of her tidbit she passed bites around the table to all those who weren't too tired to accept.

Highlight of the evening, of course, was the unrehearsed and decidedly informal entertainment offered by the neophytes. Jane Graham cracked the whip and Hugh Johnston, ably assisted by Bruce Duke, baritone through the Spartan Fight Song. When the Spartans finally gave up, the two Pats, Dunlavy and Cavanagh, wiggled out a hula dance that rated an

I don't intend to make this a long drawn out affair, but rather a fairly short concise outline on things the college and its population would be interested. Mainly, former staters I've seen or heard about since the last letter I sent your way.

First of all, something of the work I'm connected with: Naval Air Transport Service. The work that's being done is amazing considering the short length of time it has advanced from a one-plane service to a first-class mail-cargo-passenger service all over the Pacific area. Information as to its operations is of course taboo, but suffice to say, Pan American Airways is indeed an integral part.

I've met some very fine men including Richard Bong, the ace, who was as nonchalant and unconcerned as they come whose concern, he told me, was to have a clean pair of khakis to wear upon encore. Little "Pete" Petrinovich led an informal round of the "Merry Go Round Broke Down." By the time it was finished the whole Council threatened to break down from laughter.

Everybody recovered in time to finish the evening off in style except Scrappy who is still red-faced because he forgot to pick up the check from the Business office. We aren't sure, but we think he may still be washing dishes. If he doesn't show up for graduation one week from today, we'll go down and help him out. But then he should look just as good in a white apron as in a black gown.

Dean Paul Pitman received a premature offering for Father's Day as a token of the Council's deep affection for him. But he wasn't the only one who was beaming at receipt of an early gift. Our favorite student body president is drooling over a beautiful fur coat with her initials in the lining. We're drooling over it, too. We think it's gonna be mighty cool this winter.

his arrival in the states.

I also had a tete-a-tete with Lt. Comdr. Stassen, the possible candidate for president who is big and jovial. Such stars as John Wayne, Ray Milland, Randolph Scott, and Henry Fonda have passed through; the latter the only one in uniform. Others include Jimmy Roosevelt, Colonel Carlson, Mark Hellinger, Raymond Clapper, Admiral Nimitz, and the Prime Minister of New Zealand, Peter Fraser. Very interesting work, and I am well satisfied. I've been here in the Hawaiian islands six months tonight. My hope now is to come home Xmas and see some of the college and its inmates. Enough of this "roamin' around" and more on whom I've seen.

On a Honolulu street corner I ran into Ensigns Bob Henning who left State for College of the Pacific to play basketball and Robert Smith brother of former stater Marion Smith. Robert was an APO. They're flying the large sea-planes.

Ensign George Olsen was around. He used to be a Gamma Phi and was one of the boys who got a rousing send-off back in June 16, 1943 the day before graduation then was on his way back to Columbia.

Ensign George Foote whom some of you have seen recently probably was here and we sat and drank coffee (yes, coffee) and discussed the fellows of the football team. Incidentally, I over-turned in a jeep a few nights ago and who should be the investigating officer but Paul Tognetti, one of the guys who stayed here to police the islands. Yep, it is indeed a small world. George has gained lots of weight. Corporal Weber Lund, another Gamma Phi, is almost next door to me and is with the Air Communications Squadron, Waikiki Beach was our meeting place. The following week he and I and Private Tom Kerr of the Marines, another good State man, had a little reunion with all the trimmings.

EX-SPARTAN APPOINTED OFFICER OF LIBERATOR BOMBARDMENT DIVISION

Former Spartan Capt. William H. Wambold of Lakeport, California, a former lead crew with twenty-eight combat missions to his credit, is now a staff operations officer of a Liberator bombardment division.

He has been a lead pilot for his group since his fifteenth mission. His ship, "Princes Konociti", named after a range of mountains outside of Lakeport, has participated in some of the deepest penetration attacks made by the Eighth Air Force on targets in Germany and occupied Europe. Wambold went on the first attack made by the Libs on Berlin.

MISSION

On a later mission to Frankfurt he had one of his engines shot out of commission right over the city but continued on the bomb run and successfully returned to base landing with three engines running. In the air he was unaware of the fact he had a wounded man aboard. It was only after landing that the crew told him.

CLASS OF '42

He is the son of Mrs. Verta Brag of Lakeport and is a graduate of Clearlake Union High School and San Jose State college class of '42. In college he was a member of Phi Mu Alpha fraternity.

Entering the service on October 29, 1941, he attended schools at Hicks Field, Texas, Goodfellow Field, Texas, and Lubbock Army Flying School where he received his commission as pilot on the twenty-second of April 1943.

The twenty-five-year-old captain has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with three oak leaf clusters.

the Daily's fault, but the students in the various activities. It is a newspaper's obligation to print the news, and if it is spread by other means, then there would be no need for the paper. But I doubt if ever the metropolitan dailies refuse to print the outcome of an election, because some heard it on the radio the night before.

One person might wish to see the Spartan Daily full of propaganda concerning reform, social justice, etc., but how many hundreds would squawk if that took place on P.E. meetings, student council business, class election, and all those things that go to make up student life. If the letter-writer thinks that club meetings, personal news, student body activities, news about the yearbooks, etc., are not items for the paper; if he thinks that football games, a meeting of the Art Majors, news from the Co-ops, an art display in the gym, what goes on in the Quad at noon are not items of interest, then he or she has failed miserably in learning what it takes to make a college. This person has very definitely failed completely to understand student life and has a greatly warped idea on the function of a college newspaper.

That last paragraph in P.D.G.'s letter takes the cake. If there was anything so stupid or childish, I have not seen it. Would not it be comparable to "advise" the Los Gatos News (or whatever it is) to start a vicious campaign to take out the hills in San Francisco, or to make the streets run in an orderly direction. Perhaps the Spartan Daily should cease to print the small items which effect only a few; perhaps it should forget that Jim Jones is busy studying entomology and that the Entomology club and when it meets means as much to him as the Lions club downtown; perhaps it should stop printing results of elections; perhaps it should stop having editorials and notices; perhaps it should forget every student is an integral part of San Jose State—then the Spartan Daily may as well quit being a college newspaper—and its staff may as well stop putting in long hours while others sleep—oh, no, P.D.G., you might as well know that you would be the first to kick because from then on your name wouldn't be in the paper, and your club wouldn't be mentioned, and the entire student life with its fellowship and understanding and fun, would be on its last legs.

Those who believe that publish-

Vroom was over a few days ago and I showed him the more interesting spots out Waikiki way. He hopes to get a chance at the Midshipman School.

A fellow by the name of McClear is a junior pilot with Pan American and Bob DeLap is in communications with PAA. Both are seen quite often hereabouts.

Ex-Stater Ken Wells passed through with an Ensign's commission. He was in the December class at Northwestern.

A Beta Chi by the name of Arden Gibson made himself known to me and the college as usual in all these cases was the main topic of discussion. Gibson is an Army Air Corps Lieutenant.

I spotted Francis Pabst on the beach the other day but she didn't recognize me. An old friend, Captain "Bud" Nygren, should be seen around the campus there. He and I had a long discussion concerning his merger with Miss Betty Wool as soon as he got home. He's also gained weight. He has been flying DC-3's for the transport service. Boy, what a football player he used to be. Any former stater remembers. Another Marine captain, Bill Parton is also home now. He tells me Stan Murdock was South with him and that both of them and Nygren are with the transport service.

First Lieut. Charlie Geissman has finished 30 missions and should be walking the San Jose streets right now. An Army pilot who didn't stay at State very long, he's excited about going home.

Lt. Roy Ramstad a State grad of '41 has toured the campus already I read by the Spartan Daily. He has a good deal and told me he was looking forward to seeing the faculty and Dr. MacQuarrie as soon as possible. The above are the ones I've seen and talked to—and invariably in every case,

San Jose State is the main topic. Most of them have been receiving the Daily at one time or another and it's very popular. Here's to the continuance of it next fall in some form.

Persons who've been here at one time or another I'm told include Ensign Charlie Cook, Bob Ramsey, Dick Campian, Harvey Rhodes, Bob Webber, Don Baldwin, and Gordon Mitchell. Information on these staters is lacking so the mentioning of their names will suffice.

I've been reading a lot about you kids at State and how you're managing all the activities under so many handicaps. Actually, handicaps is not the right word, but rather surmountable obstacles. And heartiest congratulations are in order. Nice goin' State, I for one (and I echo the sentiments of others) am quite proud at the way things progressed and on top of that, the handling of such affairs and the spirit behind those efforts of the leaders is indeed gratifying. With Janey Graham at the helm with the tireless assistance of Jeanette Owen, how could the college help but be off the ball!

I'm standing by waiting for the results of the Council election and in advance I want to congratulate the winners. The Constitutional change was an amazing one but undoubtedly the change was

ALL-STAR TEAM PLAYS THETA MU'S TODAY IN FINAL GAME OF SEASON

Stars from the three losing softball league teams will band together this afternoon in a special match against the champion Theta Mu outfit on San Carlos turf at 4 o'clock.

Instead of the two games originally scheduled for today to windup the softball round-robin, team managers decided to play a picked team against the superior fraternity ten, closing the season in what promises to be one of the most interesting contests yet.

PITCHERS

Fire-Ball Artist Rex Maddy will take the mound for the Theta Mu's today while Jim Cassingham and Ed Loudon will share pitching honors for the all-star squad. Cassingham will take over the first four innings, with Loudon taking it in the fifth.

LINE-UP

Selected to play against the champs are Bob Huck, Cassingham, Jack Gutfelt, Bob Moon, and Wes Nunes from the Eleventh Street Sluggers' lineup; Del Whitfield, Roy Miehle, Pouts, and Brandenburg from the Avalons; and Ed Marion, Loudon, Milt Lanyon, and Jack Anderson from the Spartan Daily ten.

STANDINGS

With season batting averages still undetermined, club standings are as follows:

	W	L
Theta	5	0
Sluggers	3	2
Daily	1	4
Avalons	1	4

Ed Loudon holds a fair-sized lead over other pitchers in the strike-out division with 52 to his credit.

KP MAJORS WILL TO INITIATE

Alpha Chi Epsilon, kindergarten-primary group, will hold formal initiation of new members at the home of Dortha Dragoo Thursday evening.

Arrangements for the initiation will be made by Jane Bratzman, Dortha Dragoo and Bernice Ballard, and the new members to be initiated are Betty Berlander, Aldora Warne, Marie Garcia, Alice Batchin, and Phyllis Jerger.

Miss Mabel Crumby and Miss Emily DeVore are joint advisors of the group.

May I take this means of expressing my gratitude for your note of appreciation. I have enjoyed working with you throughout this past year and I hope that I may have further occasion to be of assistance next year.

Sincerely yours,
"Pop" Howell

Dear Editor:

May I use the Spartan Daily to express my appreciation to all the members of the student body and to the faculty who helped so unselfishly with the registration on Homecoming day?

The service was rendered in a friendly spirit that explains why graduates come "home" to our campus.

Very truly yours,
Clara Hinz, Chairman
Registration committee

Youth Problems Work Shop

Each morning the principal speakers will talk on the subject under consideration for that day; and in the afternoon groups will be formed to discuss school responsibility toward the problem; desired action of community agencies in regard to the problem; law enforcement in connection with the problem; and legislation and resolutions.

Chairmen of these four divisions will report later on results of the regular afternoon discussions on each of the major topics.

The conference is designed to promote a better understanding of California youth and their problems and to produce improvement in school, home and community, with relation to correcting the trouble.

Last year the problem of what to do with "zoot-suiters" was considered. The conference is especially concerned with youth delinquency.

San Jose High School Principal Forrest G. Murdock is general chairman in charge of the conference.

Margaret Boerner was chairman in charge of arrangements and refreshments for the picnic.

Will the committee heads turn in their reports of the Spardi Gras. It is necessary that these be collected and recorded before the end of the quarter. Please see that these are in today.
